

In these challenging times when many of our professional colleagues are in unanticipated employment transitions, Cohasset Associates is pleased to provide a number of tuition scholarships to its 2009 MER Conference. These scholarships will facilitate those who are in need with a timely opportunity to network with the nation's leaders in electronic records management.

This special MER scholarship program is an extension of Cohasset's longstanding and highly successful MER student scholarship program which has been part of all 15 prior MER Conferences. Not only has this program been an exceptional opportunity for students to learn, it also has led many students to excellent jobs.

Now in this time of widespread employment changes, there is a need to provide those in employment transition with an opportunity to participate in one of our profession's finest networking forums in their quest to find new jobs.

Anyone who is in an employment transition and is interested in receiving one of the special MER Conference tuition scholarships should contact Chris Glatz, the MER Conference Coordinator, at (800) 200-7667 or info@merconference.com.
